More than twenty years have passed since Walter Auffenberg's monumental The Behavioral Ecology of the Komodo Monitor. In the intervening years the populations of Komodo dragons—native only to a handful of islands in southeast Indonesia—have dwindled, sparking intensive conservation efforts. During the last two decades new information about these formidable predators has emerged, and the most important findings are clearly presented here. A memoir from Walter Auffenberg and his son Kurt is followed by the latest information on Komodo dragon biology, ecology, population distribution, and behavior. The second part of the book is dedicated to step-by-step management and conservation techniques, both for wild and captive dragons. This successful model is a useful template for the conservation of other endangered species as well, for, as Kurt and Walter Auffenberg note, “The species may well indeed survive in the wild for generations to come while countless other organisms are lost.”

Pictorial story starters, arranged in a progressive sequence, give young writers lots of help at first, but then less help as youngsters build skills and become more self-reliant. Initial story starters supply lists of words young writers can incorporate into their narratives; mid-book story starters provide first or last sentences to help youngsters shape their plots' beginnings and endings; and the final few open-ended prompts are pictures only, requiring the full employment of students' imaginations and skills. An introduction provides correlations to the Common Core State Standards. Grades 1-3. Good Year Books. 44 pages. Second Edition.

This book presents a geometric theory of complex analytic integrals representing hypergeometric functions of several variables. Starting from an integrand which is a product of powers of polynomials, integrals are explained, in an open affine space, as a pair of twisted de Rham cohomology and its dual over the coefficients of local system. It is shown that hypergeometric integrals generally satisfy a holonomic system of linear differential equations with respect to the coefficients of polynomials and also satisfy a holonomic system of linear difference equations with respect to the exponents. These are deduced from Grothendieck-Deligne's rational de Rham cohomology on the one hand, and by multidimensional extension of Birkhoff's classical theory on analytic difference equations on the other.

In this brotherhood you live or die by the three-piece patch. For Hold Dawson, vice-president of the Hell's Highwaymen Motorcycle Club, it's not just black ink tattooed on his body, but the religion he worships, and the law that governs his life. Nothing else matters. Family by choice and not by blood. More sacred than a shared name. Bound by respect. Loyal to death. Unity. Respect. Love. Devotion. Forever.But there's another side to this life. One the president, Hold's own father, lives and regulates by. Merciless. Wrathful. Murderous. Dishonest. Lethal.It's blood in and blood out and only one man gets to be king.
